

The Archives and Artefacts Study Network Conference 2017

Interpretations of the Past

Friday 21 & Saturday 22
April, 2017

@

Sir Richard Arkwright's Cromford Mills
Mill Lane, Cromford
DE4 3RQ

This A2SN conference will be hosted by The Arkwright Society at the heart of the UNESCO World Heritage Site, The Derwent Valley Mills; the scene of major developments in the first industrial revolution.

This conference sets out to explore our understandings of the past and the methods by which we interpret them to a modern audience in educational and community contexts. As ever at A2SN conferences we will be bringing together a wide range of specialisms and interests as we seek to expand collaboration between enthusiasts, archivists, museum professionals and academics. The event aims to prompt an awareness of the diverse activities of these groups and to begin a dialogue which leads to co-operation in preserving and using archives and artefacts.

Please put the date in your diary. Initial expressions of interest in attending and/or speaking can be made by email to keith@a2sn.org.uk A full brochure will be available soon.
